"DULCY" PROVES BIG SUCCESS

Charlatans Present Three-act Farce Before Capacity Audience—Entire Cast Does Well—Senior Ball Follows

Attempting a full three-act play for the first time in several years, the Charlatans presented "Dulcy" on Friday evening, in the Soper gymnasium. The results seem fully to justify the departure from the usual program of one-act plays; the comedy, one of the cleverest of the last season, was attended by a capacity audience, and was very well received.

Much credit is due to Prof. Fancher for his excellent work in coaching the cast.

The shining light of the performance was Baer's delightful interpretation of the title role of Dulcinea Smith—the well-known lady invented by F. P. A. in the New York World, dramatised by George Kaufman and Mark Connolly, and springing, like her fellow of the columns, the Old Soak, to instant fame and popularity under the loving care of Lynn Fontaine. Dulcy is Pollyanna grown up, and carried to her logical conclusion; a beautiful, gracious moron, with the loving soul of a child and the brain of a rabbit, who spouts her cheerful platitudes with never-flagging enthusiasm, and floats through the play in blissful unconsciousness of the havoc she leaves in her wake. Her feeble intellect drags her and her husband to the verge of utter financial and social ruin, into a situation so complicated that all the skill of the playwright is necessary to save them; and yet, at the end, one knows that she has in no way profited by the experience, that she will go quacking happily on through life, serene and loving to the end. Baer played the part with great skill and power, making his Dulcy, with all her little joys and sorrows, a vivid, flesh-and-blood character, delightfully reminiscent of hundreds of kindly, tactless hostesses, and painfully, almost tragically, funny.

Almost equally entertaining was Moore's portrayal of the irascible old captain of industry, C. Roger Forbes, who comes to the house party prepared to have a terrible time, and who feels that his expectations are pale and weak compared to the reality. His continual explosions of rage and his struggles to get away and get back to town make the part the most amusing in the play, and Moore lived up well to its possibilities.

Perrine was excellent as Dulcy's harassed husband, Gordon Smith, making the most of a rather colorless role. He was ably seconded in his efforts to bring peace by Langtry, as Bill Parker, the taciturn, likeable brother, who suffers Dulcy's unbelievable imbecilities in weary silence.

Much credit is due to Snyder for his work in the difficult part of Mrs. Forbes. He had a role which even a little overplaying would have made grotesque, and he succeeded well in keeping it within the proper bounds of restraint and good judgment.

One of the most cleverly drawn characters is that of the supposed Van Dyck, the quiet, well-bred, accomplished gentleman who turns out to be an escaped lunatic, and whose very convincing talk of his vast riches nearly brings complete ruin upon the Smiths.

VARSITY TO PLAY ALUMNI THIS AFTERNOON

To Revive Old Custom of an Alumni Baseball Game—Many Former Buff and Blue Stars to Appear

On Saturday afternoon, June 16, at 2 o'clock, a baseball team representing the alumni will clash with the varsity. The alumni are greatly interested in this game, and will have a formidable aggregation to represent them. Some of their players are D. F. Aldrich, '16, James V. Davis, '22, Francis P. Baumler, '20, J. B. Lawler, '21, C B. Whitman, '17, Pirnie Pritcard, '21, C. A. Keeler, '20, C. D. Schwartz, '20, S. R. Moffat, '21, W. Arthur Campbell, '21, George B. Ogden, '14. Other alumni players who will be out to root for their team are B. E. Stiers, '05, James D. Judson, '10, Bartle Gorman, '20, Willard P. Soper, '04, W. Curtis Knox, '12, E. S. Durkee, '03, R. C. Drummond, '01. The talent among the alumni insures the fastest sort of a contest. There will be no entrance fee for the game.

This custom of an alumni-varsity game at commencement time originated about fifteen years ago. It was continued for about five years and then abandoned. Many of the alumni who have been here at previous commencements have expressed regret that there are no athletic contests at commencement time. Therefore, to furnish an athletic event for the 1923 Commencement and revive an old custom, this alumni-varsity game has been arranged.

JOHN HENRY HEWSON, 1853

Hamilton's Oldest Living Alumnus Attends Commencement in His Ninetieth Year

A most hearty welcome is extended to Mr. John Henry Hewson, now back to celebrate the Seventieth Anniversary of his class. All the Alumni present and absent unite in a long and hearty congratulation to our Oldest Alumnus, who honors us by his presence at our One Hundred and Eleventh Commencement. Only an unusual interest in his College and in his Fraternity could have induced Mr. Hewson to make the long journey to his Alma Mater. May his Seventy-fifth, the Diamond Jubilee, find him hale and hearty and present at Hamilton's One Hundred and Sixteenth Commencement!

SIG CONVENTION NOW IN SESSION

Hamilton Chapter Acts as Host at Annual Convention—Two Hundred Guests and Delegates Present

The annual convention of Sigma Phi is being held this year under the auspices of the Beta Chapter on June 15, 16 and 17. This will be the first reunion held in the new Sig Hall.

The Sig Convention will coincide with the first three days of Commencement, and it is expected that the guests will attend most of the commencement exercises. More than two hundred people have signified their intention of attending the convention. The guests will spend the nights at the Hotel Utica, and come out to the College by autos in time for the morning sessions.

A feature of the program is the oratorical contest, which will be held on Saturday morning. After a preliminary competition, three men have been chosen to speak in the final contest. C. B. Chase, '23, will represent the local chapter.

The following is the convention program for the three days.

Friday, June 15

9 a. m. Convention session, Sig Hall.
1 p. m. Lunch, Yahnundasis Golf Club, followed by golf, tennis and bridge.
6:30 p. m. Dinner at Yahnundasis or Commons.

Saturday, June 16

9 a. m. Convention session, Sig Hall.
11:30 a. m. Oratorical Contest, Sig Hall.
1 p .m. Lunch, Sig Hall.
Afternoon, Indoor baseball game, Sig Hall.
7:30 p. m. Banquet, Sig Hall.
9 p. m. Dance, Sig Hall.

Sunday, June 17

1 p m. Lunch, Sig Hall.
4 p. m. Meeting, Sig Hall.
6:30 p. m. Supper, Residence of C. B. Rogers.

—Clark Prize Contest in Chapel tonight at 7:30.

Alumni will please take this opportunity of paying their 1923-24 subscription to Life.

LARGE CROWD FOR COMMENCEMENT

Several Hundred Alumni and Friends Attending 111th Commencement—Various Meetings Under Way Final Ceremony Monday

55 DEGREES TO BE GIVEN

The one hundred and eleventh Commencement week this morning is in full swing, starting with a meeting of the Alumni Council at the Psi Upsilon house at 9 o'clock. At the meeting the election of successors was held. Scores of alumni have returned for their class reunions which will be held at various times during the day. It is estimated that several hundred alumni will be on the Hill this Commencement.

After the meeting of the Alumni Council this morning, the annual meeting of the Society of Alumni was held. At this meeting, Chester S. Lord, LL.D., '73, president, acted as chairman. The program for the meeting included the letter of the half-century annalist by Prof. George H. Payson, D.D., '73, the report of the necrologist, Prof. Willard B. Marsh, '12; remarks by President Frederick C. Ferry, LL.D., report of the alumni trustee, E. S. Babcock, '96; the report of the executive committee of the Society of Alumni by Dr. Edward Fitch, '86, and the report of the Alumni Council by Wallace B. Johnson, '15, secretary.

Immediately after this meeting, the classes will hold their reunions. The reunion classes this year are all those from 1873-1918 ending in a 3 or an 8. The classes of 1920, 1921, and 1922 will also hold reunions. 1873 is holding its fiftieth reunion and 1898 its twenty-fifth. Most of the classes have class dinners at different places in the vicinity. The President's reception will be held in the Library from 4-6 p. m., and at 7:30 will be held the Clark Prize Exhibition in the chapel. Only those seniors who have obtained a certain standing in public speaking work are eligible. This year Philo McGiffin, Cleveland B. Chase, and Morton Walrath will be the contestants. Reunions of the fraternity men will be held later.

Sunday, June 17, is Baccalaureate Sunday, when President Ferry will deliver the sermon. In the afternoon there will be an organ recital.

Monday, June 18, is however, the red-letter day in that Commencement is held at 10 a. m. in the chapel. All the classes will form in front of the Hall of Languages at 9:45 in class order, the graduates coming first, then the undergraduates of '24, '25, '26, the graduating class of 1923, the faculty, the trustees, and the candidates for honorary degrees and guests. Heading the procession will be Holroyd's Band of Utica. The procession will move north along the west side of the quadrangle. At Science the faculty, and at Truax, the trustees will fall in at the rear of the procession. The line of march will then be northeast and down the stone walk to the chapel. When the head of the procession reaches the chapel, it will stop and the lines will open and stand facing inward while the divisions pass through, the rear of the procession entering the chapel first.

Fifty-two men will be graduated,

Au Revoir.

On Monday morning, fifty-two more will have been added to the roster of Hamilton alumni, and the Class of '23 will have completed its four year's course on this old Hill-top.

To you new graduates, we wish to extend our earnest wishes for the future, ever confident that you will always reflect credit on your Alma Mater. Your class has left a record of achievement that will last long in the minds of those left behind. Your class has seen the initial development of the Greater Hamilton, and has been instrumental in the enlargement of the undergraduate life. May those of us who are left continue the work to be done, be able to carry on!

Welcome!

Life wishes to extend the hand of welcome to you alumni who have come back to your Alma Mater. Commencement time is your time, and the whole college is yours, to renew the friendships that you formed some years ago, to bring back those memories of undergraduate days. Remember the time you swiped Prexy's grapes? Remember that first night you were on the Hill, when the Sophs were awaiting you at the Arbor with that nice green paint? Oh, what a time you had to get it off!

But just a little seriousness. Have you alumni ever thought of the fact that Hamilton has won only one football game in two years? Football is a sport that needs trained, experienced men, and we are compelled to say that Hamilton has not the proper material in college for a real team.

There is only one solution to this grave problem. That is to have the alumni of the college keep their eyes open and send on to Hamilton better athletic material. The football question this fall does not look any brighter. We have a splendid coach, and Coach Carroll deserves the support of the entire alumni body in aiding him to bring back Hamilton's reputation in football. Now this summer get busy and send that star half-back of the home town high school on to Hamilton!

The New Manager Plan.

It did seem too bad the other morning, when the college body voted down the proposed new plan for competition for the managerships in college. There can be no doubt but that the present system needs changing. Even those who are bitterly opposed to the proposed plan will admit the faults of the present system.

The proposed plan is far superior to that which is in operation right now. Why not try this new plan for a year? If, at the end of that time, it is found to be too deficient for satisfactory use, it either can be changed, or else we can go back to our present bungling, inaccurate, and prep-school type of competition for managerships.

Too many good men have been lost by the present system, and sad to say, too many incompetent men have been secured for the different jobs. Now is the time to do something. Talk it up among those who objected to the new plan; if you have suggestions, give them to the Executive Council. They will be only too glad to improve it where improvement is necessary.

Alumni News

(Edited by Prof. W. H. Squires, '88)

—Leo O. Coupe, '10, has been elected president of the Central New York Motor Club. At the annual meeting of the Club in Utica, Coupe predicted that the trolley car must be superseded by the motor bus in large cities. The vision of the coming events reads thus:

"The time is sure to come when trolley cars in large cities will be relics of the past, and transportation by motor bus will supersede them. The sooner the trolley cars are abolished, the better it will be for the public. Of course, all trolley routes must be served by busses, running at short intervals and giving good service. The streets are greatly congested at the present time with trolleys. Autoists are obliged to wait for them, and it is dangerous for persons to go out into the streets to board them and to alight from them. They take up altogether too much room and cause too much delay. Motor busses would make curb stops. The trolleys should be retained only for interurban traffic."

—John W. Van Allen, '02, the founder of "Hamilton Life", a prominent and successful attorney of Buffalo, has been lately described in our public prints in the following terms:

"He is an alumnus of whom any college could well be proud. In this city of a half-million there are few men better known for character, energy and common sense. John Van Allen is best pictured in the list of clients he serves. He is counsel for all these companies, and in some cases officer and director as well: J. N. James II is Dead—
NEWTON Lives

IT has always been known that free bodies fall. The earth has a strange attraction. How far does it extend? No one knew before Newton, sitting in his garden, one day in 1665, began to speculate.

"Why should not the attraction of gravitation reach as far as the moon?" he asked himself. "And if so, perhaps she is retained in her orbit thereby." He began the calculation, but overwhelmed by the stupendous result that he foresaw, he had to beg a friend to complete it.

In Newton's Principia were laid down his famous laws of motion—the basis of all modern engineering. The universe was proved to be a huge mechanism, the parts of which are held together in accordance with the great law of gravitation.

James II was reigning when the Principia appeared in 1687. He is remembered for the Bloody Assizes of Jeffreys, for his complete disregard of constitutional liberties, for his secret compacts with Louis XIV and the huge bribes that he took from that monarch, and for the revolution that cost him his crown; Newton is remembered because he created a new world of thought, because he enabled scientists and engineers who came after him to grapple more effectively with the forces of nature.

When, for instance, the Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company determine the stresses set up in a steam turbine by the enormous centrifugal forces generated as the rotor spins, they practically apply Newton's laws in reaching conclusions that are of the utmost value to the designing engineer.

DELTA SIGMA RHO INITIATES NEW MEN

The Hamilton chapter of Delta Sigma Rho, the national honorary forensic society, started its second year at Hamilton College by intiating eight men on Thursday, June 7, at E. L. S. Hall.

All the new members have participated in intercollegate debate as speakers during the past season. R. Hawley Fitch, '23, debated at Clinton against Middlebury College, Hamilton winning the debate. J. Lester Albertson, '24, spoke in two debates, winning both of them, against Union at Clinton and St. Lawrence at Canton. George Burroughs, '22, captained the team which was defeated by Hobart at Geneva and also debated against Middlebury at Clinton. L. Hyler Connell, '25, and Lawrence A. Wood, '25, debated with the team which was defeated by Lafayette at Easton, Pa. John Gualtieri, '25, manager of debate, participated in two debates which were won by Hamilton, against St. Lawrence and Union. Perrine, '25, and Lehmann, '25, both spoke in the Hobart debate at Geneva.

A REVIEW OF THE DOCUMENTARY HISTORY OF HAMILTON COLLEGE

Just a year ago there appeared the Documentary History of Hamilton College. This volume so far has not been very widely distributed and read among alumni, students and friends of Hamilton College. The book is the result of much labor on the part of Prof. Joseph D. Ibbotson and Mr. S. N. D. North, and is an authentic picture of the early struggles of this college.

The book is really intensely interesting to all lovers of the college. In it there may be found interesting sidelights on early college life, not only in this college, but in the early educational system of the entire country. The book is an accurate picture of the "good old days."

There are lots of students who think that the faculty have too much power and that the undergraduates have too little freedom. How would you have liked to come to college and be in your room every night at ten o'clock? This was only one of the stringent rules that were in practice in the early days of Hamilton College.

Some of the rules then in effect seem rather humorous to us now. Here is one: "If any student play at hand or football in the college yard, or throw anything against the college building or fence, by which they may be in danger of damage, he shall be fined eight cents." There are lots of others that are just as amusing.

But aside from this view of the old Hamilton, there really is something worth while in having a copy of this book. The early beginnings of Hamilton College were linked up with some of the most important events of the Republic. Hamilton College is just as much a product of the early days of the United States as are our institutions of government. The biggest men of the time conceived the idea of a school for the education of the Indians here, at what used to be the old town of Paris. The result of this little missionary school of Samuel Kirkland is now the magnificent, modern institution on this old Hilltop.

Some people have the idea that Hamilton College has always been a wealthy, flourishing institution, but this is not true. There was a time in the early days when the future for the little college which consisted of a President and four tutors with less than a hundred students looked very dark indeed.

Very few men that have been connected with the college in any way whatsoever can really have a true idea of what the glorious history of this institution has been until they have read this Documentary History of Hamilton College.

Hamilton College has just as much romance, just as many traditions, and just as many interesting points in its past history as any college in the country, in fact it has much more to look back on with pride than most colleges have.

If you want to spend a most pleasant evening, get a copy of the Documentary History of Hamilton College, and delve into the history of your alma mater. It is a book that ought to be in the library of every student, alumnus and friend of Hamilton, not only because it is interesting but because it is a valuable addition to the knowledge of the early systems of education in this country.

The Publication Board requests that the alumni and friends of the college give active support to the Hamilton Publications by giving criticisms and suggestions, where they think that they are needed.

Lanrowitz played the part for all it was worth, showing considerable appreciation of its values.

Allen, as Angela, made a charming sub-deb, infatuated with movie ideals of romance, and very much sought after by three young men of the party. The two unsuccessful suitors were amusingly played by Albertson and Shenier, the former as Sterrett, the hyper-efficient advertising manager, and the latter as the affected "scenarist" Leach, who "even talks in subtitles."

The stage setting was most attractive and much credit is due to the various men who contributed their time and effort. The make-up of the cast was done by Mr. Frank Sterling.

In the minor roles of the play, Soper was adequate as Patterson, the "deus ex machina," who unwittingly is the means of bringing about the final reconciliation between Forbes and Smith; while Lent played the part of the convict-butler with considerable imagination and humor.

The Senior Ball was held at the conclusion of the play, beginning as soon as the stage and chairs could be cleared away, and continued until the vicinity of 6 a. m. Upwards of a hundred and fifty couples crowded the floor in the early part of the evening, although the number subsequently decreased considerably. The gymnasium had been transformed, under the direction of Mrs. C. F. Willard of Chicago, by the hiding of its more unlovely angles under a very effective screen of evergreens and synthetic pumpkin flowers, while Tige Jewett's orchestra did the rest. Refreshments were served in the Hall of Commons by Mrs. Southworth.

1924 MEMBERS OF PENTAGON CHOSEN

At the last meeting of Pentagon on June first, the members from the class of 1924 were initiated. The new members are Alexander Alison, Delta Kappa Epsilon, of Bridgeport, Conn.; Lounsbury Danforth Bates, Alpha Delta Phi, of Jamaica; Donald Allen Hamilton, Delta Upsilon, of Batavia; Donald Jones, Sigma Phi, of Glencoe, Ill.; and Leslie Ernest Moore, Emerson Literary Society, of New York Mills. All these men have been prominent in college life since they entered college in 1920. Alison has been prominent in track and football, being one of Hamilton's best track men and a speedy halfback. He is captain of next year's track team. Bates is captain of next year's hockey team and was a member of this year's quartet. Hamilton is captain of next year's basketball team and is a fast end on the football team. Jones is editor of "Lit", editor of the 1924 Hamiltonian and manager of the 1923 baseball team. Moore is vice-president of the Y. M. C. A., leader of this year's quartet and next year's Glee Club, and secretary of the Association of Undergraduate Activities.

At the last annual meeting, Coach Prettyman, Springfield, '06, was elected an honorary member of Pentagon. The next annual meeting of Pentagon will be held in Truax Hall of Philosophy on Sunday, June 17, at 11:45.

—Mr. and Mrs. William Mansfield Buffum of Waban, Mass., have announced the engagement of their daughter, Elizabeth Coe, to Charles Hunneman Seaver of Brooklyn. Miss Buffum is a graduate of the Normal Art School of Boston. Mr. Seaver is a graduate of Hamilton College, class of '21, and a member of Psi Upsilon. The wedding is expected to take place in the early fall.

COLLEGE BODY HAS FINAL MEETING

New Amendments to Constitution of Undergraduate Association—Honor Court Elects—Cheer Leaders Elected

LETTERS AWARDED

On Friday evening, June 1st, at 8 o'clock, the annual spring meeting of the college body was held in the Hall of Commons. The main business of the meeting was the presentation and discussion of a new system for the election of the managers of the various athletic teams, and the award of H's for track and baseball.

Dr. Wood, President of the Association for Undergraduate Activities, acted as chairman for the meeting. The business of the meeting began with the approval of two new amendments to the constitution of the Association. The first one was that the voting for captains of athletic teams should be limited to letter men of that sport. The other amendment was that freshmen should not take part in the voting for the officers of the Executive Council.

Leslie E. Moore, '24, secretary of the Executive Council, then read the first draft of the new managerial system. The principle of the system is that all candidates for the managerships of the various teams should compete for one college year. During this time, they would have opportunity to work at each of the sports and under each of the managers and coaches. At the end of the year, the managers and coaches would turn in to the Executive Council a ballot containing the names of the seven most capable competitors, in their estimation, arranged in order of their merit. The seven men elected as a result of these ballots would select in order of their standing the managership they preferred. There was considerable discussion in regard to this system. Finally it was decided to approve the principle of it and to take definite action at a later date.

Dr. Wood then called for the Honor Court elections. Alan D. Lehmann and James B. Burke, '25, were elected to represent next year's junior class, and Raymond A. Brush, '26, to represent the next sophomore class. Donald D. Kittell and Leslie E. Moore '24, who were the junior members of the court during the last year, will continue as members during the coming year. The new president of the court will be Donald D. Kittell. After these announcements, Cheerleader Weld, '23, made the following nominations: Paul Becker, cheerleader; J. Lester Albertson and Orsemus D. Bitely, '24, assistant cheerleaders. The nominees were unanimously elected. Dr. Wood then presided at the presentation of the athletic awards.

The following were awarded H's in track: A. E. Warren, '23, A. Alison, '24, W. M. Thompson, '23, N. H. McGiffin, '24, W. P. Fenn, '23, F. E. Brush, '24, M. S. Ireland, '26, A. R. Thompson, '25, R. K. Clark, '25, C. E. Yates, '23, V. S. Alison, '24, A. V. Morris, '23; full numerals were given to F. E. Rogers, '25, and K. J. Watkins, '25.

Baseball letters were awarded to J. R. Shults, '23, M. E. Gifford, '25, F. E. Hunter, '23, C. V. Warren, '23, J. T. Mulchy, '23, R. E. Morris, '25, W. M. Pottle, '24, A. J. Hunter '25, J. R. Hatch, '25, A. G. Courteau, '26; full numerals to F. H. Meehan, '24.

On Thursday morning, June 7, after chapel, a new draft of the managerial system, which included the proposed new changes, was read. The system was voted upon and rejected by a small margin on Saturday morning, June 9th, after chapel.

liott Square Co., William Hengerer Co., Liberty Bank, M. S. B. and P. R. R., Packard Motor Co. of N. Y., L. and I. J. White Co. It might be stated that "John" first came into prominence in the big city on the Lake, when a noted speaker of national reputation failed to make his appearance at a banquet of the Business Men's Club. The committee in charge was in consternation. Its well laid plans had all collapsed—so they thought. Someone suggested that "Hamilton College Oratory" might fill the gap. John Van Allen was called upon. He accepted. The promised speaker of national reputation was forgotten. From that time on, Van Allen's road to success was unobstructed. "Hamilton Oratory" in the world is a reality.

—Captain John H. Ayers, '88, Chief in command of the Bureau of Missing Persons, Police Department, Brooklyn, N. Y., spoke lately before the Flatbush 12:45 Club. He described some of the inside workings of his particular branch of police work. He advocated the enactment of a law requiring every person in the country to be "finger-printed". This would remove the hardships imposed upon the various Missing Persons' Bureaus throughout the country. The fingerprints thus taken would serve immediatly to identify all persons found dead, lost or missiong from home. The Brooklyn Eagle report of the speech continues:

"The work of my office is not generally broadcasted because we never resort to publicity in the finding of a missing person unless the family of that person desires publicity. We don't think any good purpose can be accomplshed by publicity.

"By way of comparison let me give you a few figures. In the last 5 years there were 33,939 persons reported missing to our bureau. There were 6,236 reported missing from out of town. We made 22,926 investigations which involved the locating of almost all the persons sought outside of those who returned voluntarily. There were 2,840 unidentified dead during this period and altogether we handled 65,941 cases. Of this number there are only 1,010 unsolved and still pending."

—Superintendent H. M. Schwartz, '07, of Ilion, N. Y., is just completing his twelfth year as head of the school system of that city. Many new items have been added to the machinery of the schools during these progressive years. An enumeration of all the good things begun and carried out would make a long list. Here are a few of them: A course of study adapted to the needs of the pupils in that locality; Physical Education, Manual Arts, Supervised Study in the grades and high school, Oral English in all schools; Student Cooperation in High School Government, Longer School Day, 6 1-4 hours, Classification of Students by Mental Tests, Psychiatric Clinics, Relief of Undernourished Children, and all resulting in an unusually high percentage of pupils being retained in the High School after completing the 8th grade. Parent-Teacher organizations are connected with all school buildings. The total registration is 1954, in High School 555. The Ilion School System has long been known for its efficiency and as a Post-graduate School for preparing teachers for the large cities. When superintendents of large school systems need teachers for difficult positions, they draw on Ilion and pay the salary. There is something about the Ilion schools that is unique and Schwartz has been the power at the center of things for the last dozen years.

Edited by Prof. W. H. Squires, '88

—S. Stuart Saunders, '17, after three years of study in the Harvard Medical School has received a special appointment in surgery for two months in the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital, the most completely equipped hospital in the world. He is especially fortunate in having the opportunity to be the assistant to Dr. Dr. Harvey Cushing, the foremost surgeon in America or elsewhere. The remainder of the summer will be spent in research work in the province of surgery on a new disease of the brain. Saunders was Valedictorian, successful Clark Prize Orator and the forevolving high grade mentality while most in many other competitions in in college, but somehow or other these feats of high mentality and scholarship have not hampered him in his progress toward signal success in after-college career. How does this fit up with the Athletic Theory?

—Rocco A. Lopardo, '21, has been teaching as Principal of the Hinckley High School for two years. He goes next fall to the Utica Free Academy to teach mathematics. He made his reputation as teacher of mathematics by rounding up the "slackers" in this subject in his High School the first year at Hinckley and putting them all through the Regents examinations at high grade.

—Rev. Carl W. Scovel, '88, pastor of the Presbyterian Church at Cortland, has been making extensive improvements to his Church property. A Church House has been erected at a cost of over one hundred thousand dollars, providing class-rooms for every department of the Sunday School, parlors for special meetings of men, a banquet hall seating 250 persons and other modern facilities. The Church has been remodeled and redecorated at considerable cost and will be dedicated next September. A fifteen thousand dollar pipe organ has been provided, the best in the market. The Church has 975 members and a larger congregation. The Westminster Club for men has 300 members, and this a a man's Church. There are 32 men active as officers in the various Church Boards. Scovel has been pastor of the Cortland Church for the last eleven years and has become the beloved pastor not only of his own people but of the unpastored people of the community. He was Valedictorian of his class, prize essayist, prize speaker, successful competitor for the Greek and Latin Curran and Hawley prize, and it did not prevent him from attaining high honor success in the world of practical life. In a word, scholarshp in College has been no impediment.

—Rev. Robert E. Schwenk, '15, has just resigned the pastorate of the Cochran Memorial Church, Oneida Castle, and goes to the Presbyterian Church at Rensselaer near Albany. After being graduated from Auburn Theological Seminary, Schwenk assumed charge of the Presbyterian Church at Hamden. Rev. George B. Swinnerton, '92, of Oneida is moderator ad interim of the Oneida Castle Church.

—Richmond H. Ritterbush, '20, on June 6th received two degrees from Columbia University, LL.B. and M.A. He did graduate work in Political Science and Economics. His thesis was on the "Judicial Views of the Administration of the New York Building Laws." Practice in New York City will be taken up as soon as preliminary examinations are out of the way.

—Hon. A. Ralph Serven, '87, Attorney at Law, 419-421 Kellogg Bldg., Washington, D. C., has lately been made an honorary member of the Washington Board of Trade. This is the principal civic improvement organization in the District of Columbia. This pleasant distinction was conferred "in appreciation of his valuable services to the Board and the District of Columbia" after twenty-five years of effort in its behalf. There have been only three other honorary members of this Board, one of whom was Hon. Charles S. Bundy, '54, who had for many years been Chairman of the Board's Committee on Parks in the District. Judge Bundy gave thirty years of service on the District Bench as Judge. Mr. Serven was active and prominent during the Presidency of Grover Cleveland as Bank Examiner. He has been most active in plans for the business progress and civic improvement of his adopted city. His unanimous election to this Honorary Membership Emeritus tells the story of his devotion.

—Francis D. Willoughby, '09, head of the Willoughby Company, Utica, which is now engaged in making sedan and limousine bodies for the Rolls-Royce car, considered one of the finest automobiles in the world, presides at the Annual Convention of the Automobile Body Builders' Association held in Detroit this month. The organization represents more than 350 members engaged in building parts and making materials for automobiles. Conservation is the theme of this important gathering—this viewed from three angles, production economies, conservation of control through knowledge of costs, and practises of body builders as viewed by customers. The distinction conferred upon Willoughby is appreciated by his many friends.

—Rev. Robert G. McGregor, D.D., '97, is enlarging his church facilities at New Rochelle to meet the demands of modern church work with the best equipment that money and keen foresight can provide. Dr. McGregor is building a Modern Bible School and Parish Home Building at a cost of $200,000. There are three large assembly halls, 22 separate class rooms, shower baths, locker rooms, and extensive accommodations for basketball and boy and girl scout troops. Albert L. Kaiser, '21, is Scout Master. The ground for this building was broken April 22nd, corner stone will be laid June 24th, and it is expected the structure will be finished for occupancy December 23rd, 1923.

—Supt. J. Howard Edgerton, '06, had at his preservice Bible Class in the Presbyterian Church at Westfield, 546 men who were willing to get up early Sunday morning, June 10th, to hear a lecture on a religious subject. Surely men are not indifferent to such things, if they are presented in the good, old-fashioned way. It is easy to tear down, to talk in the eloquent terms of doubt, to advocate the certainty of science that Newton affirmed, Einstein denies and See ridicules. A constructive, sane and loyal religion is still appealing to the best and most responsible minds.

McKINNEY CONTEST HELD YESTERDAY

Large Crowd Hears Contest in Chapel —Judges Former Clark Prize Contestants

Yesterday afternoon the annual McKinney Prize Contest was held in the Chapel before a large and enthusiastic audience. The contest in each of the three classes was keen, and the quality of the speaking reflected much credit upon the work of the Public Speakng Department for the past year.

Prof. Willard B. Marsh, '12, presided. The judges were Rev. Carl W. Scovel, '88, Mr. A. L. McAdam, '88, Rev. Nathaniel McGiffin, '93, and Mr. Hadley E. Smith, '18. The winners were: Class of 1924, J. Lester Albertson, first; Francis H. Meehan, second; 1925, Philip G. Scott, first, Harold F. Harding, second; 1926, Harold C. Bohn, first, Frank H. Robson, Jr., second.

At the close of the exercises the line of march will go to the Commons Hall, where the Alumni Luncheon will be served. All alumni and members of this and other colleges are welcome.

During Commencement, meals may be obtained at Commons for alumni and guests. It has been requested that all alumni and guests register upon their arrival at the Library.

—Principal Walter M. Pratt, '08, of Fort Plain, N. Y., has been elected Principal of the High School at Waterloo. After leaving college Pratt studied law and practised his profession in Utica. The call to teaching was too strong to resist, so he accepted a position at Hyde Park, went to Richfield Springs, then to Fort Plain, and in September will take the position vacated by the late Prin. D. H. H. Naylor, '94.

OGLILVIE TO CAPTAIN 1924 TENNIS TEAM

Honor Comes as Result of Brilliant Showing on the Courts

The tennis team officially closed its season by the election of John W. G. Ogilvie, '24, as captain of tennis for next year. Ogilvie has been playing intercollegiate tennis for two years. During the 1922 season he was ranked as number four on the team and held the number three rank during the last season. His excellent playing both in doubles and singles this season enabled Hamilton to tie three of the five matches played and to win one of them. Ogilvie was captain of tennis at the Irving School at Tarrytown.

Ogilvie's election as tennis captain gives him the distinction of holding two captaincies. He was captain and manager of the fencing team during 1921-1922 and has been reelected captain and manager for the 1923-1924 season. He took part in the intercollegiate match at New York this year and advanced to the finals. He was made President of the Intercollegiate Fencing Association.

Ogilvie's home is at Oscawana. He is a member of the Chi Psi Fraternity, the D. T. Club, and Was Los. He was president of his class during his Sophomore year. He showed up well as guard in football last season.

—Announcement has been made of the marriage of James B. White, '19, to Miss Edith Allen at Massena, on May 26. Mr. and Mrs. White will take up their residence at 123 Buffalo Ave., Niagara Falls early in June. Mr. White was formerly employed with the Aluminum Company of America at Massena and is now stationed at their works in Niagara Falls.
